

The recent history of the last few months and the controversy that the media stirred up with the bashing of any form of dissent screams out for a reexamining of this ownership rule change. One cannot have been able to miss the pandering that fox was engaged in, and not be aware that this fox does not need to be let loose in the henhouse they will stop at nothing.